

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A metal shielding shell covered on an electrically insulative terminal holder block holding a set of terminal is disclosed having two guide rods bilaterally extended from the front bonding side thereof for insertion into respective through holes on a circuit board for enabling the terminals to be bonded to respective contacts at the circuit board, and two protruded portions extended from the two opposite lateral sides thereof for grounding.

10